Introducing the new
Harold Swash
Putting
'Fundamentals'
Clinic

What does it take to become a great putter? Which key ingredients are required to truly master the 'game within a game'?

With over 40 years experience delivering putting instruction to club golfers, elite amateurs and some of the world's leading tour professionals, Harold Swash Putting can answer these questions and

Great putters have one thing in common...

They hole putts!

To hole putts, you need consistency in your ball start line and speed control - with the ability to consistently control start line and adapt ball speed to constantly changing distances and slope angles.

So where do you start in your journey to great putting?

Creating a sound set up position can help you achieve the kind of consistency in line and speed required to master the art of putting. Ofcourse you need a 'read' but this is only relevant if you can start the ball on-line and control the speed.

The Swash Putting 'Fundamentals' Clinic has been designed to help you create the quality and consistency in putting mechanics required for great putting performance.

From a sound set up position to an accurate alignment strategy, we'll ensure you have all the drills and exercises to continue your journey to putting greatness!

Learning outcomes on the day:

- Create a set up position to promote excellent stroke mechanics
- Learn drills/exercises aimed at helping you improve start line & speed control
- Identify and implement an 'alignment strategy' within your putting - to help you aim with precision across different putt types
- Create a personalised pre-shot routine for you to take to the golf course
